Lithium Battery Disposal Instructions

Dispose of used lithium batteries promptly. While there are no federal regulations for disposal of lithium batteries, individual states or localities can establish their own guidelines for battery disposal, and should be contacted for any disposal guidelines that they may have. Batteries should be in a discharged condition prior to their disposal. Generally, a primary lithium cell is considered to be discharged once its voltage reaches 1.3 volts or less. Incineration of lithium cells and batteries by consumers is not recommended.
