

Q: What are sleep wrinkles?

A: Sleep wrinkles can be caused when delicate facial skin is pushed and pulled against a pillow surface during sleep.

Q: How does the Sleep Wrinkle Pillow work?

A: The Sleep Wrinkle Pillow is designed with contours to help the delicate skin by promoting comfortable back and side sleeping positions which may help to minimize facial compression against the pillow.

Q: How is this pillow different from other pillows?

A: Invented by a plastic surgeon, the Sleep Wrinkle Pillow is designed with unique contours to help reduce shear and compression forces present with ordinary pillows, which can contribute to wrinkles. The soft and resilient contoured shape is designed to provide comfortable support and reduce facial compression against the pillow surface.

Q: Will this pillow fit inside pillowcases I already own? Does it include a cover?

A: Yes. The Sleep Wrinkle Pillow comes with a premium-fitted, stretch-velour zippered cover. It may be removed for washing. A standard Queen- or King-size pillowcase (31" or longer) can be placed over the fitted cover to extend use between washings. The Sleep Wrinkle Pillow measures 25" x 12 x 5-1/2".

Q: May I use an allergy cover on the pillow?

A: Yes. This pillow may be covered with a pillow protector if desired. See size requirements above.

Q: What is this pillow made from?

A: This pillow is molded from a resilient, soft, 100% polyurethane foam. It's not made of viscoelastic "memory" foam. The Sleep Wrinkle Pillow is composed of material that was selected to provide support and resilience.

Q: What is the zippered pillow cover made from?

A: The stretch velour zippered cover is made of 75% cotton and 25% polyester.

Q: How do I clean and care for this pillow?

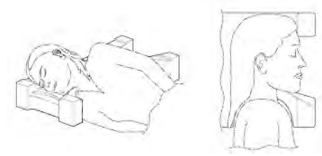

A: You may spot clean the pillow using only mild detergent. Do not submerge the pillow in water. To clean the pillow cover, machine wash in warm water and tumble dry on low. Do not bleach.

Q: How do I sleep using this pillow?

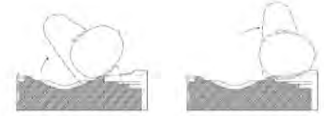

A: For back sleepers: The central panel is used for back sleeping by placing the back of your head in the circular head cradle.

For side sleepers: The side panels are for side sleeping. Your shoulder should be fitted snugly into the shoulder cradle, with your face directed outward toward the edge of the pillow. The back of your head, chin, and forehead will be supported by the “horseshoe” shaped lateral support and your ear lightly supported on the top step of the stair-stepped area.

Switching between the two positions: To sleep on your back using the central panel, simply roll over to your left or right side. There's no need to lift your body or move the pillow. The pillow is designed to help you fall into the proper side sleeping position.

Q: My pillow came with an inner slipcover. May I remove it?

A: Yes. The pillow has been sealed with a lightweight “stockinette” to protect it during the manufacturing process. The stockinette is not necessary to the function or performance of your pillow and it may be removed and disposed of any time after purchase, if you desire.

Q: My pillow appears to have some air bubbles on the surface. Is this normal?

A: Yes. Due to the complex geometrical design of the Sleep Wrinkle Pillow, minor surface imperfections may appear from the molding process. These imperfections do not affect the function or performance of your pillow.

Q: My pillow appears to be discolored. Is that normal?

A: Yes. It's normal and expected that the pillow will discolor unevenly over time from exposure to light and air. This discoloration is typical of the material used to manufacture this pillow and has no effect on the function and performance of your pillow.

Q: How do I put the zippered cover on my pillow?

A: First, lay the zippered cover flat on a large surface, top side up. (The top side of the cover has tailored panels to match the contours of the top of the pillow.)

Next, place the zippered cover over the front corners of the pillow, adjusting for the proper fit on one front corner, then the other.

Finally, since the zippered cover provides a snug fit, you may need to gently move the cover down each side of the pillow until the pillow is completely covered. When the pillow is completely covered, close the zipper.
