

Van Zyverden's
AGASTACHE BLUE FORTUNE

Agastache is easy to grow in average soils, but good drainage is important. Protect from winter weather in USDA zones 5 and lower. Makes for a bold addition to the garden. A great perennial choice for borders, walking paths and/or cutting gardens. Plant where they can be enjoyed up close. Attracts butterflies and deer resistant. Also known as Giant Hyssop.

Attracts pollinators

Long blooming summer to fall

Deer tolerant

About This Variety: Blue Fortune produces blue-lavender flower spikes that bloom from summer into fall. Leaves are often used in potpourri and to flavor food and drink.

Growing Instructions: Where winter weather may be severe, plants should be located in a protected spot in the garden with southern exposure. Do not remove leaves and stems before winter as they provide some protection when left in place until spring.

Care Tip: Deadhead after blooming to encourage more flowers to return in the same season.

Blooms: July to September

Exposure: Full sun

Height: Grows 24-36" tall

Spacing: Plant 18-24" apart, 1.5-2" deep

USDA Zones: Hardy in USDA zones 5-9

Guaranteed to grow 1 year from purchase if directions are followed. Any concerns related to quality and/or counts feel free to contact us.
