

RECALL 8/4/21 – Perfect Aire Dehumidifiers

New Widetech, in cooperation with the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission (“CPSC”), is recalling specific brands of dehumidifiers because under certain circumstances, they can overheat and catch fire, posing fire and burn hazards.

QVC sold the Perfect Aire brand of electronic dehumidifiers and all customers who purchased one of the dehumidifiers from QVC are being notified of the recall, instructing them to stop using the dehumidifiers immediately and to contact New Widetech for a pro-rated refund.
